The meaning of HIVA OA:

There are several meanings for the word HIVA, first of all in Marquesan, it would be translated as "mother beam", because each island of the Marquesas is named after a part of the house. In ancient texts, HIVA is translated as "elsewhere, far away". In addition, HIVA was used as a notion of distance and then gradually took on a prestigious dimension and was incorporated into the names of many islands.

COMO PUAKA alcohol:

The COMO PUAKA is a local alcohol that can reach 90° of alcohol. It can be virgin or flavored with local fruits such as pineapple and vanilla, but also mango, soursop, carambola or coconut water. This alcohol is punished by law because of its dangerousness, if it is well prepared, the COMO PUAKA is comparable to sweet white wine. On the other hand, if it is badly made, it can have a harmful effect on the behavior.
